PROPOSED Revisions to Mandatory Guidelines for the Federal Workplace, Drug Testing Programs

Dear Dr. Vogl:

I have read the proposed revision to drug testing for federal employees recently published in the Federal Register and wish to submit my objections to the hair, oral fluid and sweat specimens. Since the urine testing has been successful I see no reason to change the current procedure. In light of our defense expenses and our "War on Terror" I believe that it is unnecessary to create additional expenses in the drug testing of federal employees. I believe my taxes could be put to better use protecting our borders.

In conclusion, I am a 62 year old female with fine and thinning hair and I will not allow anyone to remove even one strand from my head except my hairdresser and myself.

Sincerely,

Adeline M. Lang
